

Celebrating twenty-five years of enabling innovation

The 2022 Annual Genomics of Energy & Environment Meeting, hosted by the U.S. Department of Energy (DOE) Joint Genome Institute (JGI), is the premier forum for convening members of the scientific community pursuing the frontiers of energy and environmental genomics, metabolomics, and synthetic biology research; data science, and technology development.

In celebration of the 25th Anniversary of the JGI's founding, the Meeting will be held in a hybrid mode at Lawrence Berkeley National Laboratory \(Berkeley Lab\), adjacent to the University of California, Berkeley, easily accessible via public transportation from the three international airports that frame the San Francisco Bay Area's vibrant innovation ecosystem.

Benefits of Your Meeting Sponsorship

By participating in the JGI Annual Meeting as a sponsor, you and your colleagues will have multiple opportunities for high-quality engagement with global thought leaders in omics, data science, and technology development. The specific sponsorship levels benefits are described below.

Basic Sponsor: $2,500

- One full-conference registration.
- Your company logo/description on the JGI Meeting website and featured on the rotating slideshow between plenary sessions.
- Dedicated exhibitor space including a six-foot skirted table, two chairs, pipe-and-drape, and an electrical connection.
- Pre-, during- and post-event attendee contact information enabling you to send three emails, after which participants must opt-in for further communications.
- A dedicated slot to display one scientific poster for onsite and virtual poster sessions.

Refreshment Break/Poster Reception

Sponsor: Additional $2,500

- Prominent promotion and recognition of the company through announcements before and after the breaks/reception and space for dedicated signage provided by the company.
- An additional full-conference registration.

Poster Prize Sponsor: $1,000

- Branding recognition on winning poster selection certificates as judged by conference participants.

If these above options don't meet your particular needs, please let us know and we'd be happy to work with you to get the most out of the JGI Annual Meeting experience. Contact David Gilbert, degilbert@lbl.gov.
